Does anyone know if the ENVI-L listserver is still up and running? I haven't received anything from the list in a few weeks and the last time I tried to post a message it bounced. I heard the list has been transfered to RSI and they have yet to respond to to my e-mail to let me know what happened to the list.

I would also like to know what happened to the archive of user functions that used to be at: http://www.envi-sw.com/envi_ext.htm. Again, I asked RSI but they haven't replied.
