

---

Subject: Non-User has elementary question about 3D plots

Posted by lewis on Thu, 14 Apr 1994 22:56:02 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

I have many large (256 X 256 X 256) files that I would like to display as a cube of color from which I could take slices along any axis and then plot as a 2D surface with color as the third dimension. Is it possible to do this with PV Wave, and if so, are there examples out there on the net? Is there a FAQ for this group?

Thanks

---