Hi, there,

I have a question:

I make a DLL using C. In this DLL there is a function that opens a file to read and write. I put the DLL in IDL environment, \IDL\bin\bin.x86\ . I called the function from IDLDE. So where should I put the file that I want to open so the program can find it?

I tried to put the file into the same directory as the DLL, but it can not find it.

Any suggestion will be appreciated!
