Hello,
I am a researcher at the NIH in Bethesda MD. I am interested in hiring a computer programmer for writing custom IDL and visual basic programs to analyze and archive images taken from many different types of microscopes. I am interested in hiring someone under a one year contract. This person would be expected to be able to work here at the NIH. Please send an email to combsc@nhlbi.nih.gov if you are interested or can suggest a consulting company/individual who could do this job.
