
Subject: how to modify the default 'printf' format

Hi, there,

As we know, when we use 'printf' in IDL, it will automatically print a 'carriage-return' at the end of it. So next time, when we use 'printf', it will print in a new line.

My question is:

How can we modify this default behavior of 'printf' and let it print in the same line next time?

Any suggestion will be appreciated.
