Lol - this doesn't really mean anything, but today - just for the heck of it - I submitted some old code to RSI via that new user contribution area they have on their website. I received a pretty quick email replay back stating that my ideas were accepted and will be incorporated into IDL 5.6! Shut up! So in the future if you run `a_correlate` or `c_correlate`, that extra speedy result will be courtesy of one of your fellow IDLers. Gee, maybe I'll retire now with my new celebrity status, lol.....

Wait a minute...I'm looking up "sardonic". Here it is:
"bitter, scornful, or disdainfully sarcastic."

Well, yes, but only when I post first thing in the morning, before I've had my coffee. :-)

Cheers,

David
