Subject: Re: Sky map in idl

Posted by mperrin+news on Wed, 27 Aug 2003 15:24:49 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Tanju Gurel <tanju@ibu.edu.tr> wrote:

> Hi,

>

- > We some points which have (RA,Dec) coordinates and we want to plot a
- > 2D skymap.
- > Do you know any IDL program that plots skymap with given data or any
- > idea how to make it in idl?
- > There are examples of sky maps in the following link:
- > http://www.batse.msfc.nasa.gov/batse/grb/skymap/

You can do this very easily using IDL's built-in mapping tools:

map_set,0,180,/mollweide,/grid,/horizon plots,dec,ra,psym=4

- Marshall

Subject: Re: Sky map in idl

Posted by mperrin+news on Wed, 27 Aug 2003 15:26:22 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Tanju Gurel <tanju@ibu.edu.tr> wrote:

> Hi,

>

- > We some points which have (RA,Dec) coordinates and we want to plot a
- > 2D skymap.
- > Do you know any IDL program that plots skymap with given data or any
- > idea how to make it in idl?
- > There are examples of sky maps in the following link:
- > http://www.batse.msfc.nasa.gov/batse/grb/skymap/

You can do this very easily using IDL's built-in mapping tools:

map_set,0,180,/mollweide,/grid,/horizon plots,dec_in_degrees,ra_in_degrees,psym=4

- Marshall