I am trying to create multiple sets of identical size ROIs. I have created the first set manually in ENVI. This first set contains several non-connecting varying size rectangles. Is there an easy way to move, and copy and paste from this existing ROI to different locations within the same image?

Does anyone know of any interactive ENVI/IDL tool that will allow an user to interactively define ROIs by entering starting coordinate, size, name and color for the region, and then display this ROI in an image?

Any help would be greatly appreciated!
