This (pwd) is the same bug I found as I discussed here:

Thanks for the hint. I came up with the same kludgy environment variable workaround. We don't have an acceptable workaround for the exit status problem so we are just ignoring application errors for the moment. We considered writing the status to a file to be read by the wrapper script, but the ugliness of that workaround makes me prefer to put it on a "known bugs" list instead.
