I am _NOT_ an IDL expert, but I would like to help you with your book.
After all you helped me a lot of times sharing your knowledge on this group... Mail me, tsbiscaro _at_ gmail

Hi David,

I'm interested in helping. I'm not an IDL expert, but not a novice either. I also have an interest in writing my own books one day, so I think this might be a pretty useful thing for me to do. Should those of us that are interested email you directly or should we wait to hear from you now that we've said we're interested here in the newsgroup?

Jeff

Hey, sounds like fun! (See, I have a sense of humor...) I may even be able to count it toward my training/education requirement. Gotta love those bureaucrats.

I'm used to signing NDAs since I work at Aerospace, so that's not a problem. What else do you need? Mail addy? Pint of blood?

Ed

Probably best to e-mail me with your address and phone number. But hurry. If I get too many more volunteers I am going to be spending all my time managing the review process and no time writing! :-)

Cheers,

David

P.S. I'm really grateful to everyone who has responded so far. Thank you very much!
