Hi,

We're thinking of writing apps that use C# (or Java) as a 'top layer' because they have nice object functionalities, test-routines etc.. The hardcore number crunching (mainly on images) would be done in IDL. So the program should be able to interface nicely with IDL. IDL claims this would go 'seamlessly' (right!) with the IDL Export Bridge Assistant Module...

Does anyone have experience on using this or has a knowledge of a working way to accomplish this...

thx,

Gert
