Fine, perhaps this is what you want:

```
person* p = get_original_poster("greatsee");
signal_off_topic(p);
signal_utterly_off_topic(p);
p->~person();

If you really are unable to suppress the urge to respond to random spam, please at least avoid re-posting the spammer's URL's in your reply.

OK, I've been reading way too much slashdot. I read
"greatsee" as "goatse".

Isn't there a moderator to read and remove the occasional non-fortran junk that gets in from time to time? It seems to be about one every week.

And funny that you would demonstrate a wholly-equal level of stupidity by posting your response to all non-Fortran groups.

I, alas, am slightly less stupid than you, since I've trimmed the list by one newsgroup -- ironically, the Fortran group.
