
Subject: Re: output as eps instead of ps?

Posted by David Fanning on Mon, 18 Sep 2006 22:58:02 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Dilkushi@gmail.com writes:

- > I have been outputting my graphs in .ps formats using
- > Set_Plot, 'PS'
- >
- > Now I have been asked for outputs as .eps
- > Is there a quick fix?

Device, /ENCAPSULATED

Cheers,

David

--

David Fanning, Ph.D.

Fanning Software Consulting, Inc.

Coyote's Guide to IDL Programming: <http://www.dfanning.com/>

Sepore ma de ni thui. ("Perhaps thou speakest truth.")

Subject: Re: output as eps instead of ps?

Posted by news.qwest.net on Mon, 18 Sep 2006 23:06:41 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

<Dilkushi@gmail.com> wrote in message

news:1158619433.326067.280420@e3g2000cwe.googlegroups.com...

- > Dear all
- > I have been outputting my graphs in .ps formats using
- > Set_Plot, 'PS'
- >
- > Now I have been asked for outputs as .eps
- > Is there a quick fix?
- >
- > thanks
- > dilkushi

I usually just change the filename extension from .ps to .eps and that seems to make everybody happy. I suspect the reason why people/journals etc ask for eps, is that they require a bounding box statement in the ps file. IDL always puts one in, so it usually is acceptable.

Cheers,

bob
