
Subject: Re: Listing of Internal IDL Routines

Posted by news.verizon.net on Mon, 09 Oct 2006 21:14:07 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Robi wrote:

> Hi there,

>

> I was wondering if anyone has an ascii listing of the internal > (proprietary) IDL routines (like total, histogram, etc.)? I can just > go to $IDL_DIR/lib and find all the IDL routines that are written in > the IDL language. But I need to get a list of the routines that have > no available source code. Best -Tim.

procnames = routine_info(/system)

gives all the internal procedures, and

funcnames = routine_info(/system,/func)

gives all the internal functions

--Wayne

Subject: Re: Listing of Internal IDL Routines

Posted by David Fanning on Mon, 09 Oct 2006 21:22:47 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Wayne Landsman writes:

> procnames = routine_info(/system)

>

> gives all the internal procedures, and

>

> funcnames = routine_info(/system,/func)

>

> gives all the internal functions

Then, of course, you have to parse through all these and remove the object methods as well as the routines that are there, but not exposed to the user. (WIDGET_OLH seems interesting.) :-)

Cheers,

David

--

David Fanning, Ph.D.

Fanning Software Consulting, Inc.

Coyote's Guide to IDL Programming: <http://www.dfanning.com/>

Sepore ma de ni thui. ("Perhaps thou speakest truth.")

Subject: Re: Listing of Internal IDL Routines

Posted by Robi on Mon, 09 Oct 2006 22:57:40 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

> procnames = routine_info(/system)
> gives all the internal procedures, and
>
> funcnames = routine_info(/system,/func)
> gives all the internal functions

That is PERFECT! Thanks Wayne! -t.
