
Subject: Re: Retrieving the title of a widget_base after the fact.
Posted by David Fanning on Mon, 23 Oct 2006 21:36:47 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Braedley writes:

- > Specifically, when the parent of the widget_base is a widget_tab.
- > There's a chance that an action may be canceled by the user when data
- > that would normally be over-written no longer needs to be over-written.
- > Part of the process includes renaming the tab (before the decision to
- > cancel can be made). However, if that tab no longer needs to be
- > overwritten, I would like to set the title of the tab back to what it
- > was before.
- >
- > Hope that wasn't too confusing. There's nothing in widget_info or
- > widget_control that appear to be able to do this, so am I going to have
- > to devise a means of retrieving the original title?

Well UVALUES are always handy for this kind of thing. :-)

Cheers,

David

--

David Fanning, Ph.D.

Fanning Software Consulting, Inc.

Coyote's Guide to IDL Programming: <http://www.dfanning.com/>

Sepore ma de ni thui. ("Perhaps thou speakest truth.")

Subject: Re: Retrieving the title of a widget_base after the fact.
Posted by Braedley on Tue, 24 Oct 2006 13:50:47 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

David Fanning wrote:

- > Braedley writes:
- >
- >> Specifically, when the parent of the widget_base is a widget_tab.
- >> There's a chance that an action may be canceled by the user when data
- >> that would normally be over-written no longer needs to be over-written.
- >> Part of the process includes renaming the tab (before the decision to
- >> cancel can be made). However, if that tab no longer needs to be
- >> overwritten, I would like to set the title of the tab back to what it
- >> was before.
- >>
- >> Hope that wasn't too confusing. There's nothing in widget_info or
- >> widget_control that appear to be able to do this, so am I going to have
- >> to devise a means of retrieving the original title?

>
> Well UVALUES are always handy for this kind of thing. :-)
>
> Cheers,
>
> David
> --
> David Fanning, Ph.D.
> Fanning Software Consulting, Inc.
> Coyote's Guide to IDL Programming: <http://www.dfanning.com/>
> Sepore ma de ni thui. ("Perhaps thou speakest truth.")

Don't ask me why I didn't think about that.

Thanks
Braedley
