On Nov 5, 8:48 am, Kostas <ko...@freemail.gr> wrote: > I have install a fedora 7 linux under a virtual machine (vmware > workstation) and i have install IDL v6.4 ENVI v4.4 & ENVIZOOM v4.4.
> IDL and ENVI works Perfect. When i try to start envizoom from a > terminal or direct from envi or direct from idl the time that envizzom > starts and maximizes the application window the same time the system > logout and i have to login back again and ofcourse i can not run > envizoom... Any idea what should i do to fix this problem
>
> Thanks
>
> Kostas

It may be that your video card needs driver updates or some additional configuration. You can switch IDL and ENVIZoom into software rendering mode which might cause drawing to be slower, but probably will allow ENVI Zoom to run.

Launch the IDLDE
Go to File->Preferences
Select the Graphics tab
Select Software Rendering

You can also set software rendering by using an environment variable of I think
IDL_GR_X_RENDERER set to 1

Melissa