
Subject: MI5 Persecution their methods and tactics
Posted by emevme on Wed, 02 Jan 2008 08:09:18 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

-- MI5: methods and. tactics --

They deliberately set out to harass in a way that. would resemble the symptoms of schizophrenia, so that any report of the harassment would. be taken as indicating mental illness. and "treated" accordingly. They never show their own faces; they. only work through proxies, in the media, among the public, and by manipulating people in the workplace. Since. they do not declare. their identity there is no evidence to initiate legal action against the security services or anyone else.. The only people you can prosecute are the proxies and they will deny knowledge of. any conspiracy.

By repeatedly humiliating and. abusing the victim, they induced mental illness. This is the worst form of human rights violation: making. any statement of the harassment appear to be symptomatic. of the illness which they cause. through the harassment. That this can happen, and people collude by silence,. is absolutely horrifying.

From the beginning in June 1990 they set a pattern. of harassment which they have followed without change for the last six years. They paint. me as a "threat" to which people must "react" (shades of Nazi. persecution methods), while simultaneously portraying their hate campaign. on which they have

The MI5 that breaks the law with the silent complicity of the. police is the same agency that is. now seeking a role in the fight against crime. Perhaps the real joke is the proposed involvement in the. implementation of justice of an organisation. which commits criminal acts with secrecy and disinterest for the. legal process.

340
