I don't honestly know. Have you tried .FULL_RESET_SESSION?

The .FULL_RESET_SESSION give the same result as the .FULL_RESET.
The work directory and the state of the decomposed flag are not reset to the default value.

Humm. Guess it should be renamed the .ALMOST_FULL_RESET_SESSION command. I'll put in a request. :-)

Cheers,

David

P.S. A startup file is run when you reset the session, so I guess you could put the commands you need in there.
