Subject: Re: Data organization question
Posted by Chris[6] on Tue, 25 Nov 2008 18:17:16 GMT

My first instinct would be that, if you are worried about creating an array that's too large, you aren't far off from running out of system memory either (factor of a few different?)

If the data come from a file, can't you compute the above quantities as you read in the file? Histograms and spectra can be built up one point at a time.

chris