Subject: Re: IDL Call Stack
Posted by David Fanning on Thu, 28 Jan 2010 20:52:39 GMT

David Fanning writes:

>
> Folks,
>
> I'm working on enhancing an error handler today, and I want > access to the IDL call stack. I used to get it like this:
>
>   HELP, CALLS=callstack
>
> But I see CALLS is no longer officially a keyword to the > Help command. I remember seeing some code somewhere that > accessed this information, and I remember thinking I > should "write that down" so I didn't forget it, but, of > course, I've forgotten it. And it can't be found > in the IDL on-line help, apparently, using any of the > likely search terms.
>
> Does anyone know how to get this information in the > "official" way?

Nevermind, I just found it (accidentally!): SCOPE_TRACEBACK.

Thanks for letting me push that SEND button. ;-)

Cheers,

David

--
David Fanning, Ph.D.
Fanning Software Consulting, Inc.
Coyote's Guide to IDL Programming: http://www.dfanning.com/
Sepore ma de ni thui. ("Perhaps thou speakest truth.")

Subject: Re: IDL Call Stack
Posted by Heinz Stege on Thu, 28 Jan 2010 20:58:01 GMT

Hi David,

do you mean the SCOPE_TRACEBACK function?

Heinz