

---

Subject: Re: How to add a title to a multi plot page
Posted by David Fanning on Fri, 19 Mar 2010 20:21:39 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Mathew writes:

> I am making multiple plots on a page using !P.multi
>
> I want to have a title at the top of the page. How do I do this? If I > do it after setting !P.multi I get a title for a particular plot. I > tried adding an extra row and using xyouts but it got ugly and it > won't give me a title that spans all columns.

I use the outside margin system variables, as in this
example:

<http://www.dfanning.com/tips/omargin.html>

Cheers,

David

--

David Fanning, Ph.D.
Fanning Software Consulting, Inc.
Coyote's Guide to IDL Programming: <http://www.dfanning.com/>
Sepore ma de ni thui. ("Perhaps thou speakest truth.")

---

---

Subject: Re: How to add a title to a multi plot page
Posted by Gray on Sat, 20 Mar 2010 00:38:00 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

On Mar 19, 4:09 pm, Mathew <mat.yea...@gmail.com> wrote:

> Hi
> I am making multiple plots on a page using !P.multi
>
> I want to have a title at the top of the page. How do I do this? If I > do it after setting !P.multi I get a title for a particular plot. I > tried adding an extra row and using xyouts but it got ugly and it > won't give me a title that spans all columns.
>
> TIA
>
> Mathew

Use multiplot from the NASA astronomy library, it can do everything you're looking for.

---

---

Subject: Re: How to add a title to a multi plot page
Posted by Mathew on Sat, 20 Mar 2010 14:10:09 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Thanks. That did the trick.

On Mar 19, 1:21 pm, David Fanning <n...@dfanning.com> wrote:
> Mathew writes:
>> I am making multiple plots on a page using !P.multi
>
>> I want to have a title at the top of the page. How do I do this? If I >> do it after setting !P.multi I get a title for a particular plot. I >> tried adding an extra row and using xyouts but it got ugly and it >> won't give me a title that spans all columns.>

> I use the outside margin system variables, as in this
> example:
>
> <http://www.dfanning.com/tips/omargin.html>
>
> Cheers,
>
> David
>
> --
> David Fanning, Ph.D.
> Fanning Software Consulting, Inc.
> Coyote's Guide to IDL Programming:<http://www.dfanning.com/>
> Sepore ma de ni thui. ("Perhaps thou speakest truth.")

---

---

Subject: Re: How to add a title to a multi plot page
Posted by Mathew on Sat, 20 Mar 2010 14:10:48 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Thanks. I'll take a look.

On Mar 19, 5:38 pm, Gray <grayliketheco...@gmail.com> wrote:
> On Mar 19, 4:09 pm, Mathew <mat.yea...@gmail.com> wrote:
>
>> Hi
>> I am making multiple plots on a page using !P.multi

>
>> I want to have a title at the top of the page. How do I do this? If I >> do it after setting !P.multi I get a title for a particular plot. I >> tried adding an extra row and using xyouts but it got ugly and it >> won't give me a title that spans all columns.
>
>> TIA
>
>> Mathew
>
> Use multiplot from the NASA astronomy library, it can do everything > you're looking for.

---