I have a widget which contains a draw widget amongst others. If I open a pickfile widget over the draw widget, to choose a new file to load, all actions taken on the pickfile widget (like mouse buttons) are allowed to also go through to the draw widget. That means that when I close the pickfile widget, a lot of events are generated in the draw widget.

How do I get rid of this? I'm still using IDL 3.5.1 for Windows.

Mike
