Here I come back with contours...

I have an array with NaNs. When I tried to plot it wih FSC_contour or contour while loading the blue-red colorbar, my whole plot is fill with some blue. No red for maximum values ... Is that normal?

THnaks for your help

Cheers

I've spent the past four months doing nothing BUT developing these ideas. You will read about them soon. :-) BytScl doesn't care one whit about your data. :-)

Cheers,

David

David,

I have discovered a nice thing called, /cell_fill... feel so ashamed :-)

Still want to read the holy book :-)

Thanks for your patience

Have a nice week-end

Cheers
