
Subject: Re: Hash in IDL?

Posted by Gray on Fri, 22 Jul 2011 02:16:29 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

On Jul 21, 9:32 pm, Beaker <mattjamesfran...@gmail.com> wrote:

> Does anyone know of a standardish implementation of a hash (or > associative array if you will) in IDL?

>

> I've written one using the custom object features in 7.1 and it seems > to do the job, but I wonder if there is a better, more tested, more > optimal implementation out there already?

>

> Any ideas?

In IDL 8.0 there's a HASH and LIST feature.

Subject: Re: Hash in IDL?

Posted by Jeremy Bailin on Fri, 22 Jul 2011 02:28:22 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

If you're stuck in pre-8, Craig Markwardt's hashtable object works well:

http://www.physics.wisc.edu/~craigm/idl/down/hashtable__define.pro

-Jeremy.
