Subject: Another PVWAVE widget question

I have created a button box widget ontop of the initial layout widget. In the button box call back procedure, I want to be able to close the original window and then display a new one. Is this possible? From what I can gather the button box callback procedure has no handle on the original window in order to close it! Also in order to display a new window is the main window widget the one to use?

Any help much appreciated!!!
