

---

Subject: How to choose the best rendering system ?

Posted by natha on Tue, 07 Aug 2012 17:47:00 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Hi guys,

I would like to know if there is a program somewhere to test what kind of rendering is better for a given computer.

Normally, the software rendering system will generally run more slowly than the hardware rendering system. However, use of the software rendering system has a few important advantages.

Everything depends on the graphical card.

I would like to know the difference in terms of "rendering time" in order to choose the best rendering system for a given computer.

Thanks for your help,
nata

---