
Subject: Re: max and min values

Posted by David Fanning on Mon, 03 Jun 2013 22:53:01 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

fd_luni@mail.com writes:

> There is a way to print out the maximum and minimum (Y-axis) of a plot?

Print, !Y.CRange. Or, in normalized coordinates, Print, !Y.Window.

Cheers,

David

--

David Fanning, Ph.D.

Fanning Software Consulting, Inc.

Coyote's Guide to IDL Programming: <http://www.idlcoyote.com/>

Sepore ma de ni thue. ("Perhaps thou speakest truth.")

Subject: Re: max and min values

Posted by [Paul Van Delst\[1\]](#) on Tue, 04 Jun 2013 12:27:25 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Or in NG for a plot created like so

p = plot(x, y, ...)

p.xrange and p.yrange will display the extrema.

You can also change them, and the plot, by assigning to them.

cheers,

paulv

On 06/03/13 18:53, David Fanning wrote:

> fd_luni@mail.com writes:

>

>> There is a way to print out the maximum and minimum (Y-axis) of a plot?

>

> Print, !Y.CRange. Or, in normalized coordinates, Print, !Y.Window.

>

> Cheers,

>

> David

>

>

>