Hi,

I keep getting an error that says "License Manager: Current license is not for specified x windows display". I have IDL84 and am using Mac Yosemite. I've downloaded the license and I have it in the appropriate path so I'm not sure what to do. Any ideas?

Does this error always occur or does it occur occasionally?

I have a network license and I get this message whenever I change the network while staying in IDL. In my case, this might occur when moving my laptop to a different room where it picks up a different network. The only solution I've found is to restart IDL.
