Subject: command (batch) files Posted by slx on Mon, 20 May 1996 07:00:00 GMT

Hi,

can someone explain to me what is wrong with my batch file. I would like to compile a few .pro files before running the main program so I thought I would have a batch file with

.run getmainmenudesc ip_analysis

when I type @ipa the silly thing say 'Can't open file for input: getmainmenudesc' and then executes the main program and craches 'cause it didn't compile the first thing. Any ideas would be most appreciated.
