Subject: Bitmaps
Posted by J.D. Smith on Mon, 14 Jul 1997 07:00:00 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I am having difficulty getting Windows IDL to properly display a button bitmap which works just fine on the unix side of things. To quote the manual:

When using a bitmap to specify button labels, be aware that some toolkits prefer certain sizes and give sub-optimal results with others.

but this is hardly helpful... has anyone determined which sizes the various platforms are fond of?

Thanks,

JD