Hi Folks,

I appreciate so many of you hounding me about when my book will be available, I really do. But I can't handle one more distraction. :-)

Here is the scoop.

The printer tests are done. The graphics are going to look great. I got my ISBN number two days ago (ISBN 0-9662383-0-3). I expect the final cover art back this afternoon or tomorrow. I am making the penultimate final pass through the manual looking for typos, fixing figures, etc. I have been working about 20 hours a day for the past 2-3 weeks to get all of this done. I've never felt so much pressure, although I can't say why, since it all seems to be self-imposed, except for the constant e-mail traffic.

Anyway, my wife is ready to leave me. My kids don't recognize me. My bank balance is pretty much shot to hell. And someone told me the other day that it is time for Christmas!? I think the book is almost done. :-)

I will have everything I can do wrapped up by next week. After that, it is pretty much up to the printers. I am hoping beyond hope that I can put one of these books under the Christmas tree for my wife. It is just what she wants. :-) I'll let you all know the moment it is ready. I do have an order form on my web page for those of you thinking that this would make a great stocking stuffer. :-)

Happy Holidays,

David
