Hi Folks,

I upgraded my e-mail software today and somehow in the process managed to completely lose my IN file folder. (All the others were transferred intact.) As a result, I lost about 4 e-mail messages that I had just read 5 minutes earlier.

One message that I cannot recover was from someone in Germany who wanted to order my book. This was a message, I believe, from the librarian of the company. They needed to have a formal invoice and the details of wiring payment into my account. I am sorry, but I do not remember any more about the message than that. If this sounds like something that might be happening at your company, could you contact me and I will do what I can to sort the situation out.

I'm very sorry for the problem.

Regards,

David
