
Subject: Calling fortran procedures from IDL
Posted by Torben Schmith on Wed, 01 Apr 1998 08:00:00 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

In the IDL manual a rather complicated procedure for calling a fortran procedure from idl is described. This involves writing a small interface routine which then again calls the 'real' fortran routine. When strings are to be transferred it becomes even more complicated.

Do anyone know of a simpler way to do it? What I would like is simply a IDL routine which just calls the fortran routine...

--

Torben Schmith
Danish Meteorological Institute
Meteorological and Oceanographic Research Division
Lyngbyvej 100
DK-2100 Copenhagen
DENMARK

Phone: +45 39 15 75 00

Direct: +45 39 15 74 44

Fax: +45 39 15 74 60

E-mail: tsc@dmu.dk
