Does anyone know when PV-Wave CL will ship for Solaris 2.2?

Just want to know...Greg

PV~Wave 4.0(CL) will work under Solaris. The only thing that has to be changed is the script called 'arch' in one of the bin directories. The script doesn't look in the right directories when trying to find out what type of CPU architecture you have. If you fix this script, all will work just as it did under SunOS 4.x

The rest is left as an exercise to the reader, :-)
