
Subject: Leaving the IDL World for Now
Posted by David Foster on Mon, 28 Jun 1999 07:00:00 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Fellow IDL-ers:

I have accepted another position where they do not currently use IDL, so I will probably not be very active on this newsgroup in the near future. Of course, one of my first tasks will be to convince my new supervisor that they really NEED IDL!!

I just wanted to say that I have always been extremely impressed with this newsgroup, more so than any other. And not just because of the knowledge base, which is really amazing, but also the maturity, respect, and outright concern people here have for others in the earlier stages of their struggles with IDL. Everyone here appreciates that no matter where we are, we have all followed similar paths.

I have learned a lot from this group, and I've really enjoyed passing along what little bit I could to others.

Thanks.

Dave Foster

PS. You can still access my FTP site for routines generally related to widget interfaces, image processing, and brain imaging:

`ftp://bial8.ucsd.edu/pub/software/idl/share`

--

New Info:

~~~~~
David S. Foster      Univ. of California, San Diego
Programmer/Analyst    Dept. of Neuroscience
dfoster@ucsd.edu
~~~~~

Subject: Re: Leaving the IDL World for Now
Posted by rmlongfield on Fri, 02 Jul 1999 07:00:00 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

In article <37781B16.38C4@bial1.ucsd.edu>,
David Foster <foster@bial1.ucsd.edu> wrote:
> Fellow IDL-ers:
>

> I have accepted another position where they do not currently use > IDL, so I will probably not be very active on this newsgroup in the > near future. Of course, one of my first tasks will be to convince > my new supervisor that they really NEED IDL!!

Hi Dave,

As one of the newer users who have benefited from this newsgroup,
I wish you luck in your new job and hope to see you back here real soon.

Rose

Sent via Deja.com <http://www.deja.com/>
Share what you know. Learn what you don't.
